

LIST IN THE MIDDLE COLUMN

DASHES HERE AND THERE BY THE SUN'S REPORTERS

The Episcopals of Long Island.—The Beginning of an Important Convention Over the River.—A Letter from Bishop Littlejohn.

The annual convocation of the Protestant episcopals of the Diocese of Long Island met in the Brooklyn Church of the Holy Trinity yesterday. The morning session was devoted to religious services, the Rev. Dr. Albert C. Nyquist, rector, presiding. In the afternoon at the business session the Rev. Dr. Diller was elected presiding officer, the Rev. Brown secretary, the Rev. Dr. D. C. Cooper assistant secretary, and the Rev. Dr. J. C. H. Smith, rector of the Church of the Holy Trinity, trustee of the estate belonging to the diocese. The Rev. Dr. Diller was elected president of the convention of the Fund for Aged and Infirm Clergymen, the Rev. Dr. D. C. Cooper, secretary, and the Rev. Dr. J. C. H. Smith, rector of the Church of the Holy Trinity, trustee of the episcopal fund. The Rev. Dr. Diller was elected president of the convention of the Protestant Episcopal Association of the United States, the Rev. Dr. D. C. Cooper, secretary, and the Rev. Dr. J. C. H. Smith, rector of the Church of the Holy Trinity, trustee of the episcopal fund. The convention met today at 10:30 a. m.

The Elevated Road Enjoined.

Judge Joseph F. Daly has enjoined the New York Elevated Railroad Company from building or completing new tracks, turnouts or switches in either the city of New York or Nassau county, or from making alterations in either of these streets, or from going on with the construction of the road in any manner, beyond the city limits of New York.

The Elevated Railroad Company is required to show cause why it should not be enjoined from so immediately enjoining under the presidency of the Dutchess county judge, the construction of the road in the Greenwich street and Ninth avenue, from using dummy cars, and from proceeding to the construction of its roads.

One Husband's Drunkenness.

When Michael Dorsey, a laborer, returned to his apartments in the rear of the low brick tenement at the corner of Broadway and West Street, he found his wife in bed. He had been drinking, and he could not get up and spent the night in a barroom. After he had gone Mrs. Dorsey became violently ill, and told her husband that she was going to die. He called for a doctor at about half past five, and he found that she had taken P. P. green. She died in agony in about half past six. The doctor said that she had taken the body of his wife he was furious with rage and he threatened to sue the doctor for the death of his wife to provide means for the burial of the body.

The Stock Board's Perplexity.

The question of the purchase of the Louisiana and Louisiana bonds to the privilege of the Stock Board engaged the Governing Committee yesterday.

The Sunday School Children's Festival.

The Twinkling Stars, the Gospel Volunteers,

Dew Drops, the Faithful Witnesses, the Busy Bees,

Buds of Hope, the Harvest Home, the Apples of Gold, the Morning Star, the Star of Bethlehem,

Casket of Jewels, the Sunshine Parade, the

Crystal Wave, the Band of Missionaries, the Waves of Calvary, the Jewels of the Lord marched along twenty-five feet behind the children.

... and there at 2 P. M. a number of Baptist Sunday schools united had addresses and singing, after which each school returned to its own chapel, and there had

The Mercantile Library Election.
The new directors of the Mercantile Library Association are: Charles S. Arthur, with the Third Avenue Railroad Company; Alexander M. Englewood, with the Citizens' National Bank; Charles F. Allen, with the Commercial Insurance Company, and Augustus West, with the Commercial Union Assurance Co. The other Association trustees are Wilson U. Hunt, Wm. B. Ketchum, John C. Coffin, Isaac H. Bailey, and Dr. M. Myers, M. C. D. Jordan.

The Ups and Downs of Wall Street.
J. Newton Perkins, a banker well known in New York, died in Irvington on Sunday last, at the age of 72 years. He was a native of New York, and was of the firm of Winslow, Perkins & Co., and accumulated a fortune and retired. Misfortune overtook him in 1892, when his business failed. He was 63 years. He made another fortune and lost it on Black Friday, 1893, when he lost $100,000. He was a member of the New York Stock Exchange. He was buried in Nottingham.

Marine Agency.

At a meeting of the Brooklyn Association in the Central Baptist Church, Bridge street, Brooklyn.

Evening, the chairman said that the members had united to protest against the political power of the Catholic Church, which at every step tries to put down the rights of the Protestants. The speaker said that the church had been in existence for nearly 200 years ago. The chief speaker of the evening was Rev. W. B. Wolfe, of the First Street Methodist Church.

Beginning to Talk Business.

Commander Vandewater is slowly improving, and is still restricted to a physical physician. He has a report of the condition of his health. He smokes two cigars a day, and takes his meals in the dining room of the hotel. He is now in the city, and is in the room with whom he talked on business, but yesterday he was in the President Office of the Western Union Telegraph.

A Newborn Man Hitting Himself.

Edgar Farmer, an influential resident of New York, committed suicide on Monday by hanging. His wife was found yesterday. He had suffered from softening of the brain for some time. He was the former director of the Essex county board of Free-Trade, and was a member of the Reformed Church, and the head of the trunk and bag manufacturing firm of S. Farmer & Co.

Interesting to Notaries and Others.

In Richard against Eolier the General Term of the Common Pleas decided yesterday that the stamp of notarial seal in blue ink does not authorize the reception of the notarial certificate in evidence, under our

The Burial of the Irish Exile.
The remains of Harry S. Mulleda, the Irish exile, who committed suicide in a hotel at 182 Chatham street on Saturday night, were buried yesterday in Olivary Cemetery. The Napier Tandy Club and other organizations attended the funeral.

The Policemen's Diary.

The Cardinal's Heart Improving. It is probable that Cardinal McCloskey may be at it all at once, as he has been the Golden Rule of Archbishop Purcell on Sunday next.

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN

Mr. T. M. Hengler's character sketches, Globe patron, this afternoon.

The body of an unknown man was washed down the sewer at the board yesterday.

The Board of Apportionment has fixed the city commissioners' salaries at $5,000 each.

Anniversary of the Howard Mission and Home for Little Wanderers in the Academy tomorrow evening.

Inquirer can get the information in the New York edition for the blind, at Ninth avenue and thirty-fourth.

Among the passengers in the City of Dallas, Fernandez yesterday, were Mr. Henry Ward, Bremer and John Adams.

The First Reformed Episcopal Church congregation, the Rev. W. T. Sabau, pastor, have purchased a new organ and altar.

The sixteenth anniversary of the Baptist Sun-

The Express says that capitalists in this city who offered Mrs. Mira Clark Granger $200,000 cash and fifth of the proceeds of her property when notified that she might become interested in a pool.

The well-known furman, Mr. James Morris, staged his own death, and was killed by a death from meningitis, of his own team, a horse and gray mare. They were very fast, and valued at $6,000.

J. Lowthian Bell, M. P. Mr. Eugene Hadeau, the cavalier E. de Luca, Italian Consul General in New York, and his wife, and the Duke of S. Wagram, and the two Misses Scheure, arrived in the Both-

At handball, in McQuade's court, yesterday.

score was: Cusey and Mack, 21, 16, 18, 21, 21; Mc-Lade and Dore, 12, 21, 21, 14, 13. At rackets the acce-lade were: Morris Moore and Dave Barry, 12, 15, 14-16; McLaughlin and Leshan, 15, 13, 9, 15, 8.

—, 1994, Journal of the American Medical Association, 271, 10, 1253-1257.
